

Local Food Connection Proud Partner Carriage House Farm

Carriage House Farm was established in 1855 and has been single-family owned for five generations. Carriage House produces whole and milled grains and honey, and grow and forage fresh vegetables, fruits, greens, herbs, and edible flowers. Carriage House Farm believes it's extremely important to support the regional food culture that defines who they are. They do this by always making time to work with local organizations to help preserve old and native breeds of plants and vegetables, educate the community about the importance of buying food locally and seasonally, build the local farm-to-table community, and support locally-owned businesses.
